ADF Super fees and other costs

This booklet explains the fees and costs that apply to your ADF Super account, and other fees and costs you may encounter—depending on the super services you use or the options you take up.

While some of us are right on top of what it costs to be a super customer, most of us don't give it a second thought until we see our super statements each year, or if we're looking to switch funds.

So, no matter your understanding, read cover to cover to learn about the ADF Super fees and costs you're paying, and how and when you pay them.

What's inside?

We've divided this booklet into the following parts:

- Fees for managing your investment options. The table on pages 5–6 gives you a high-level view of the fees and costs that apply to your ADF Super investment option—which drive your super returns—and other, additional fees.
- An example of annual fees and costs on page 7.
- An explanation of defined fees and costs. These are defined under super law, and we explain how they apply to your ADF Super account. See page 8.

Fees and other costs

This section shows fees and other costs that you may be charged. These fees and other costs may be deducted from your money, from the returns on your investment or from the assets of the superannuation entity as a whole.

Other fees, such as activity fees, advice fees for personal advice and insurance fees, may also be charged, but these will depend on the nature of the activity, advice or insurance chosen by you. Entry and exit fees cannot be charged.

Taxes, insurance fees and other costs relating to insurance are set out in the Tax and your ADF Super and Insurance and your ADF Super booklets respectively.

You should read all the information about fees and other costs because it is important to understand their impact on your investment. The fees and other costs for the MySuper product offered by the superannuation entity, and each investment option offered by the entity, are set out on pages 5–6.

Did you know?

Small differences in both investment performance and fees and costs can have a substantial impact on your long-term returns.

For example, total annual fees and costs of 2% of your account balance rather than 1% could reduce your final return by up to 20% over a 30 year period (for example, reduce it from $100,000 to $80,000*).

You should consider whether features such as superior investment performance or the provision of better member services justify higher fees and costs. You or your employer, as applicable, may be able to negotiate to pay lower fees. Ask the fund or your financial adviser.

To find out more

If you would like to find out more, or see the impact of the fees based on your own circumstances, the Australian Securities and Investments Commission (ASIC) MoneySmart website (www.moneysmart.gov.au) has a superannuation calculator to help you check out different fee options.

* This calculation is a simplified illustration that assumes the additional fees charged do not generate higher returns, e.g. from unlisted assets or active managers.

 We are required by law to provide you with this information, however lower fees cannot be negotiated with CSC.

 The calculator on the ASIC website can be used to calculate the effect of fees and costs on account balances.

Fees and Costs Summary

Our four investment options—Cash, Income Focused, MySuper Balanced and Aggressive—aim to achieve the returns that will fund a comfortable retirement for you. The investment option your ADF Super balance is invested in determines some of the fees and costs that are chargeable.

The main fees to manage your account are provided below for each investment option. You can use these to compare our fees with similar funds.

² These costs are based on the 2024-25 financial year and are rounded to the nearest two decimal places. The actual amount will change from year to year and may be different to the amounts shown. The calculation basis for these amounts is set out under 'Additional explanation of fees and costs'.

Changes to fees and costs

We may change fees and costs from time to time. We will let you know of any fee change that we believe will materially affect you, at least 30 days before the change takes effect. Fees and costs can be changed without your consent.

Tax

The benefit of any tax deductions, available in relation to administration fees and costs and insurance administration fees, are retained within the Fund or the Fund Administration Reserve to cover Administration costs.

Tax benefits in relation to insurance premiums are returned to you on or about the time that the premiums are deducted—reducing the amount that you ultimately pay.

For more information on tax refer to the Tax and your ADF Super available at csc.gov.au/pds

Administration reserve

Net Administration fees and any tax credits from Administration fee tax deductions are paid into the Fund's administration reserve. The administration reserve allows CSC to sustainably invest in future strategic projects for the benefit of members, and funds operations and member services over the long term.

The administration reserve is managed in accordance with CSC's administration reserve strategy:

- If administration costs are higher than the administration fees charged to members in a given financial year, we have the option to cover any shortfall from the administration reserve.
- If the administration costs are lower than the administration fees charged to members in a given financial year, we have the option to allocate these monies to the administration reserve.

The additional administration costs paid from the reserve are shown in the 'Fees and Costs Summary' on page 5. The actual amount will change from year to year and may be different to the amounts shown and may be nil.

Advice fees

We offer access to comprehensive advice that is personalised for you by CSC's authorised financial planners⁶, who take into account your financial situation and objectives. It:

- is 'fee for service' advice, which means you'll need to pay for it. You pay these fees directly. They are not deducted from your ADF Super account balance.
- starts off with a fixed quote up front, and there's no obligation to take up the advice after getting a quote.
- is provided by CSC's authorised financial planners who are required to and will always act in your best interests, even if that means recommending a financial product not provided by CSC.
- is provided without generating commissions—we don't pay commissions to financial planners.
- has no hidden fees.

For further information visit csc.gov.au/financial-planning, or call 1300 277 777.

⁶ Our authorised financial planners are authorised to provide advice by Guideway Financial Services (ABN 46 156 498 538, AFSL 420367). Guideway is a licensed financial services business providing CSC financial planners with support to provide customers with specialist advice, education and strategies.

Buy-sell spread

When we buy or sell investments as a result of our customers' transactions, we incur costs like brokerage fees and taxes. We pass these costs onto you when you transfer money in or out, contribute to or withdraw from your super account or switch investments—or when we deduct fees.

A buy price applies when we buy units, which happens for example when you or your employer contributes to your super or you switch into a new investment option.

A sell price applies when we sell units, which happens for example when you leave ADF Super, when you're charged a fee or when you switch out of an investment option.

The difference between the buy and sell prices is called the buy-sell spread. The buy-sell spread can change from time to time, and no part of the buy-sell spread is paid to CSC or any underlying investment manager. In line with industry standards, the balance we provide for your ADF Super account online and in your annual statement is your total balance minus the sell cost.

The table below shows the buy and sell spread for each investment option expressed as a percentage and shows worked examples.

Buy-sell spreads for each investment option⁷

Investment Option	Buy spread	Sell spread	Worked example buy spread	Worked example sell spread
Cash	0.00%	0.00%	X $5,000 = $0
Income Focused	0.00%	0.09%	X $5,000 = $0.00	X $5,000 = $4.50
MySuper Balanced	0.00%	0.13%	X $5,000 = $0.00	X $5,000 = $6.50
Aggressive	0.00%	0.14%	X $5,000 = $0.00	X $5,000 = $7.00

GST

Fees and costs do not include any applicable goods and services tax (GST) unless otherwise stated, but take into account available Reduced Input Tax Credits (RITCs) that relate to the GST component.

Family law fee

- When customers request super information in line with what is allowed under family law legislation, we charge $170 to ADF Super customers and $187 (incl. GST) to non-ADF Super customers to provide that service. The fee covers the cost of the work required to respond to a request.
- We charge $110 to split a customer's super account because of a family law arrangement.
- The family law fee is an activity fee.

⁷ Buy and sell spreads are subject to change, for current spread values refer to csc.gov.au/buysellsread

Investment fees and costs

ADF Super's Investment fees and costs includes investment fees and performance fees.

The total estimated Investment fees and costs are based on actual and estimated costs incurred during the 2024-25 financial year and are shown in the Fees and Costs Summary entry on page 5.

Performance fees

We pay performance fees to investment managers who charge these fees if (and only if) the performance of their investment exceeds certain benchmarks. When this happens, performance fees are deducted from earnings before the return to ADF Super is calculated, and this increases Investment fees and costs.

We've carefully and deliberately designed our fee agreements with our fund managers to make sure they align with your interests, and two outcomes are possible:

- We pay less in fees when investment performance is below target. This means the investment manager more equitably shares the downside risk.
- We pay more in fees when performance is above target. Note, we set maximum performance fee limits for strong performance in any one year.

Actual performance fees depend on the level of performance achieved by investment managers who charge performance fees, and the weighting of those managers in the relevant investment option.

In turn, our Investment fees and costs vary from year to year in line with the performance recorded by underlying fund managers.

In the 2024-25 financial year the following estimated performance fees were paid and are reflected in the Investment fees and costs estimates:

 Cash 0%
 Income Focused 0.19%
 MySuper Balanced 0.23%
 Aggressive 0.15%

It's worth noting that amounts previously paid in performance fees may not be indicative of performance fee amounts that may be payable in the future.

The Performance fee is calculated as the average performance fees for each investment option for the previous 5 years (or the number of financial years in which it operated or had a performance fee charging mechanism in place, if in either case it was less than 5 years).

We regularly review the estimates of performance fees that we reflect in ADF Super unit prices and we may change them, for example, because of changes to the:

- asset allocation;
- weighting and composition of underlying investments; and/or
- fees charged by underlying investments.

Insurance fees

Customers who have lifePLUS Protect cover (only available to eligible former serving members of the Australian Defence Force) will pay insurance premiums, plus an insurance fee of $1.50 per month ($18 per year). This fee is charged on a pro rata basis and covers costs incurred by CSC in relation to the provision of lifePLUS Protect cover.

For further information download the Insurance and your ADF Super booklet from our website.

Operational risk reserve

We're required by the Australian Prudential Regulation Authority (APRA) to fund and maintain an operational risk reserve. The operational risk reserve may form an additional cost that has a minor negative impact on investment earnings.

For more information about the operational risk reserve, download the Investment options and risk booklet from our website.

Transaction costs

Transaction costs are additional costs to ADF Super customers and they are reflected in unit prices. The total estimated transaction costs are based on actual and estimated costs incurred during the 2024-25 financial year and are shown in the 'Fees and Costs Summary' on page 5.
