Manager style:	Multi-manager

Aim and strategy

The 'Aggressive' option is a consistently strong performer compared to peers². This option accepts higher volatility than our balanced fund, but only from risks we expect you to be compensated for. We aim to avoid unnecessary risks and diversify to minimise the impact of unavoidable risks. The result is strong relative returns regardless of market direction.

Return objective:	CPI +4% per year after fees and tax, over 10 years.
Investment horizon (i.e. anticipated time to retirement):	15 years.
Life stage (general guidelines):	Early to middle stage of working life.
Estimated number of negative annual returns over a 20-year period:	4 to less than 6.

The 'Aggressive' option has consistently outperformed peers³ in the SR50 Growth Index⁴. It ranked #1 out of 38 funds in achieving the highest return for each unit of risk taken as measured by the Sharpe Ratio⁵ across 7 and 10 years. It is also ranked in the first quartile across 3, 5, 7, and 10 years.

This reflects our strategy to aim for fewer or smaller losses than peers when markets are falling but still capture a large proportion of the gains when markets are rising. This risk management approach is designed to achieve a surer path to a well-defined retirement outcome for our members.

³ SuperRatings' results for the period ending March 31, 2025.

⁴ The SR50 Growth Index is a benchmark used by SuperRatings to compare the performance of Australian superannuation funds with high growth investment options, typically containing between 77% and 90% of their assets allocated to growth assets like shares, signifying a high-risk, high-potential return investment strategy.

⁵ Investment return per unit of risk shows how much return you get for the risk you take, assessing if the reward justifies the risk. The Sharpe Ratio calculates the excess return (the return above the risk-free rate) relative to the standard deviation (a measure of risk or volatility) of an investment. A higher Sharpe Ratio indicates a more favourable risk-return trade-off, meaning the investment is providing higher returns for each unit of risk.

Philosophy

CSC's investment philosophy focuses on dependable returns while limiting risks.

Our highly experienced Investment team stress tests the resilience of the portfolio under multiple scenarios to address any portfolio vulnerabilities to different types of risks and events.

Target Market Determination

To ensure that CSC is keeping customers at the centre of our approach to the design and distribution of our products, a Target Market Determination (TMD) has been made for ADF Super, PSSap and CS Cri. A TMD describes the types of customers a financial product is appropriate for, based on their likely needs, objectives and financial situation (target market), and it establishes the conditions and restrictions in relation to how the product can be distributed to customers. The TMD also describes our reporting requirements, and events or circumstances where we may need to review the TMD.
